you deserve the luxury of sussex shutters

Discriminating homeowners deserve the opportunity to accentuate their windows with Norman Shutters, the finest shutters available. The luxurious Sussex line is nothing short of exquisite. Masterfully crafted from White Teak, Sussex Shutters are designed to beautifully complement any window in the most distinguished style.

Like any home investment, only shutters of exceptional quality will provide long-term value and increase appreciation. Norman Shutters ensures the beauty and durability of our shutters through the finest materials, handcrafting processes, advanced technology and quality control systems.

exceptional materials

The finest heirloom furniture is made with quarter-sawn wood to ensure generations of durability, and so are all Sussex Shutter louvers. In quarter-sawing, the wood is harvested from logs in a way that makes it less susceptible to inherent cupping, twisting and warping. This method gives the wood remarkable strength and stability.

timeless craftsmanship

Traditional Mortise-and-Tenon Joinery

One of the hallmarks of fine wood crafting is employing the right joint for the job. We recognize that the sheer and racking forces endured by shutters dictate the use of robust mortise-and-tenon joinery.

Hand-Finishing for Resilience and Brilliance

The secret to a handsome and durable shutter finish really isn't a secret at all. It takes multiple sequences of sanding with progressively finer sandpaper to open the pores of the wood for coating and to smooth the surfaces. Each layer is coated with thin layers of high-quality stain or paint. This labor-intensive process is the only way to achieve the translucent, deep finish of a Sussex Shutter.

advanced processes

Prescription Wood Conditioning™

We are the only shutter manufacturer to employ an exclusive Prescription Wood Conditioning technique to reduce post-installation shrinking and swelling inherent to wood products.

Our wood conditioning specialists determine the humidity conditions of each customer's home location. The wood for the shutter order is dried to conditions emulating that of the final installation location. Drying to the proper environmental conditions results in a more solid and beautiful shutter for years to come.

Engineered Stiles for Stability

A well-crafted shutter closes solidly, does not have unsightly gaps, and stays that way year in and year out. We are the only shutter manufacturer to compensate for wood's tendency to deform by using reinforced engineered wood stiles, with multiple layers bonded with pressure, heat, and a proprietary chemical formulation. This imparts an intense level of durability to the cores of our stiles and results in a robust support system for your shutter panels.
