Cairns photographer Ian Stone from Posh Photography says:

"As a busy photographer, I've been to over a thousand wedding receptions and good music can make the night fun for everyone. Couples should never confuse an i-Pod with a DJ. The i-Pod will play the wrong music, at the wrong volume, at the wrong time in the night. It can't read your guest's mood and no one will dance. I'd recommend all couples get live music. The extra cost is a fraction of the total cost of the reception and will make all the difference between a fun wedding and a boring one."
